DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 29-33,39-48 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Ungar'187 substantially for the reasons of record.

The amendments and remarks filed by applicants in their last response have been fully considered. The arguments have not been persuasive.

Applicants have amended claims and argued that the Ungar'187 references does not teach the claimed structure and the method to obtain such laminated structure. Applicants have argued that the Ungar reference laminate is formed by a high pressure and elevated temperature as opposed to the claimed invention wherein the laminate is first glued. Applicants points out that HPL laminate of Ungar is different from DPL laminate of applicants invention. In response the examiner submits that regarding the claimed article the method to obtain such article does not make article different. Also, in the method claim the examiner submits that the Ungar disclosed method includes the claimed direct pressure laminate. In any event it would have been obvious to first glue the individual layers and then hot press them to form laminate. Such methods are well known and widely used in the art. Also, the claimed gypsum board are well known in the art to be used in the wall applications. Using such board in floor laminate is not novel but only reusing it or incorporating it in different applications.
